AMERICAN ACCORDIONISTS' ASSOCIATION

The American Accordionists' Association is a non-profit organization founded in 1938 for the following purposes and objectives:

- To provide the media and public with information to stimulate an increasing awareness of, knowledge about, and appreciation for the accordion;
- To promote unity within the accordion community by encouraging cooperation among members and with their organizations which work on behalf of the instrument;
- To set and maintain high standards for those interested in the accordion, thereby working to facilitate and coordinate the various segments of the accordion world;
- To increase the number of people playing and studying the accordion, with a particular emphasis on young people;
- To honor achievement throughout the accordion community;
- To organize, sponsor, and support competition for accordionists at all levels and dispense scholarships and/or honors to those who distinguish themselves through outstanding performance;
- To organize, sponsor, and support workshops, advancing educational standards and artistic levels of accordion enthusiasts;
- To promote communication among segments of the accordion world; and
- To assist all accordion-related organizations with a forum for discussion of matters affecting the accordion in particular, and music in general, both nationally and internationally.
